Keep Your Students Safe, Secure, and Ready to Learn

Protect your students against self-harm, suicide, bullying, and violence with the Securly Student Wellness Solution.

Your students' achievement starts with their safety and security.

Giving students the education they need to succeed in school and life is important and rewarding work. However, for your efforts to be successful, you must first provide a school environment that is physically, cognitively, and emotionally safe.

"Feeling safe and valued is vital to a child's development. Learning suffers when students fear for their safety, worry about being bullied, or don't sense their teachers have high expectations for their success."

"Children Learn Best When They Feel Safe and Valued,"
Thomas B. Fordham Institute, April 8, 2021.

Your students' safety and security is foundational to their academic performance and overall well being. When these essential needs aren't met, the negative outcomes can be severe, including self-harm, suicide, bullying, and violence.

The Threats to Student Safety and Wellness Are Real

18% of high school students made a suicide plan in 2021.

90% of students in grades 4-8 report they've been harassed or bullied.

160,000 kids refuse to go to school each day for fear of being bullied.

26 school shootings occurred in 2022, more than any year since 1999.

92% of superintendents say student mental health is worse now than before the pandemic.

3 in 4 superintendents feel limited in their ability to improve student mental health because of staffing shortages and funding concerns.

You can keep your students safe and secure — even when your resources are limited.
